

CORPORATE PRE-TRAVEL COUNTRY THREAT ASSESSMENT SEMINARS

These seminars are for any one that travels overseas in the performance of their job. No matter what the country, there is a threat of some kind to Americans. Whether it is a criminal threat, terror threat or even a medical threat, Raidon Tactics Inc educates the client to those threats. These seminars are designed for your company, with the specific country or countries of travel and all aspects of threats that can be encountered in that country. This is the best way to educate everyone in your company at the same time for the lowest costs. Raidon Tactics Inc does all the research, gives all the available information to your employees, and better assists them in the performance of their duties. Raidon Tactics Inc makes it easy for the client by having our training team come to you and give the seminars in your local facilities. Making travel costs nothing and allowing maximum coverage of information and dissemination of that information.
