

Weekend Executive Team Building Program

The weekend team-building program was designed for the small business owner or corporation that needs a jolt to either fix morale problems or to have a challenging problem solving Gut Check to fix attitudes or finally, just a way to make co-workers get to know each other's strengths and weaknesses.

This program is custom designed by you and Raidon Tactics Inc. However, it's principals are based on the US ARMY SPECIAL FORCES (GREEN BERETS) ASSESSMENT AND SELECTION COURSE. Used for selection of soldiers into the elite unit. All participants with problem solving situations based on the concept that nothing is impossible if all individuals use the strengths they have to overcome the individual's weakness. Weekend Challenge programs are demanding physically and mentally. Little sleep is given and there will be lots of moving on foot with loads in excess of 45lbs. The program is a series of "missions" that have clear end objectives, very few resources and instructions with broad interpretations. It is then up to the "TEAM" to develop a course of action, solve problems along the way and reach the objective. You have total input to this very flexible program. The program has Green Berets that will mentor and oversee all phases of movement and implementation. At no point will the risk be too great that someone will be physically injured. For a fun and challenging weekend getaway, this is the answer. All participants must have a current physical and mentally and physically ready for a challenge. Lodging in the Fayetteville area is ample, with the world's Best golf course just 30 minutes away, this can turn into a retreat like no other.
